

MULTIPLE INTERNATIONAL INTERNSHIP PLACEMENTS IN AFRICA

Summary

Art in Tanzania NGO operates in multiple programs focusing on developing the African communities and society in Tanzania.

Details

Did you know that by 2020, according to the U.N., Africa came as the most rapidly urbanizing region of the world?

Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, is on track to becoming one of the fastest-growing economies in Africa.

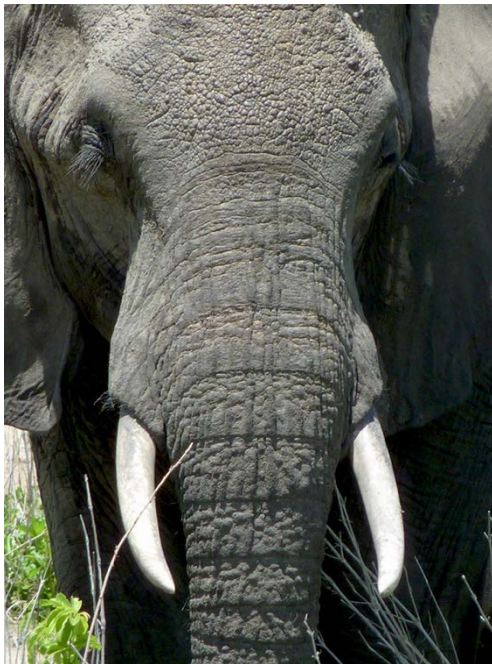

Participating in a project in Tanzania, you support national development. You get hands-on experience working in a developing country where there is a lack of resources but a lot of enthusiasm for learning to enhance future businesses.

We have a vast network of local and international business professionals, companies, and NGOs working in many diverse sectors in Tanzania. We have been operating since 1996 developing Tanzanian societies.

The daily work includes practical fieldwork and office duties in planning, reporting, and visibility content preparation. We manage and monitor your placement by written weekly daily planning tasks and end of the week reports.

We offer internship and co-op opportunities in the following Africa-based programs:

- Sustainable Tourism
- NGO Management in Africa
- Village Education Development
- Children Under School Age Program
- African Football Youth Academy Development
- Marketing and Management
- Social Media
- Human Rights Advocacy
- Climate Change Effect on Socio-Economy
- Corporate Social Responsibility
- Women's Development
- Environmental Advocacy
- Disaster Management Program
- Film Production
- Social Sector
- Medical Nursing and Public Health
- Pharmacy Africa program
- Physiotherapy

Academic-level team leaders are daily supervising your internship. In addition, we monitor your work with a weekly plan and report system to secure you proceed well in your study program.

The internship outcome is learning to use and get experience to implement your education in developing country conditions with limited capacity. Also, to better understand the opportunities in a fast-growing economy.

Work hours are 6-8 hours per day, Monday through Friday. Your program can be from 2 weeks up to 12 months.

Being an ongoing program, we can adjust your start dates. Your placement is tailored to your background, experience, and interests to empower our daily work with the communities. You can also conduct thesis and related tasks. The typical day-to-day tasks include practical fieldwork, planning, reporting, and visibility.

We provide 2x the local minimum wage of USD 100 per month for paid internships payable when you stay a minimum of 4 weeks.

The start and end dates are flexible and can accommodate other travel arrangements in Tanzania. International flights, student permits, accommodation, and meals are personal costs.

You and your visiting friends can enjoy sustainable tourism, safaris, and local tour options at a low cost.

To book you in and open your account, we need your tentative arrival and departure dates.

ART IN TANZANIA INTERNSHIP/CO-OPS/WORK-STUDY PROGRAMS

About the Organization

Art in Tanzania is a self-sustainable Tanzanian non-profit NGO having 100+ international students and graduates annually in Tanzania, participating in multi-professional programs.

- Art in Tanzania is an NGO established in 2001, first as a sole proprietorship and then registered as a Tanzanian NGO in 2007 with the registration number OONGO 1013 and operating in Dar es Salaam.
- We have around 20 staff members, including five graduate professionals guiding the student programs. In addition, we have 15-50 international volunteers and interns in Tanzania all year round and numerous Tanzanian participants. Participants live in our compound while focusing on supporting the surrounding schools and communities. We also provide remote internship options when needed.
- Our focus points include education, medical health and raising awareness about HIV/AIDS. We also organize sports events, training, and support art and movie production, media, and tourism. In addition, we focus on different social and environmental issues through our Children's Agenda program, Climate Change program and Corporate Social Responsibility program, among others.

Our community-based programs empower local communities and individuals. While interns experience daily life in Tanzania, you also have the opportunity to witness one of the fastest-growing economies in Africa.

Our interns work in a team of international and Tanzanian multi-disciplinary interns and professionals. We encourage innovation in the program approach.

We work with our sister entity Green Works Africa which focuses on a more commercial program approach.

INTERNSHIP PROGRAMS IN TANZANIA

Art in Tanzania offers internship placement options in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania.

Details

Did you know that by 2020, according to the U.N., Africa will become the most rapidly urbanizing region of the world? Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, is becoming one of the fastest-growing economies in Africa. We have a vast network of local and international business professionals, companies and NGOs working in many diverse sectors throughout Tanzania. Tanzania is also among the most peaceful countries in the world.

Students intern in the following programs:

- Music and Dance
- Tourism
- Education
- Sports
- Marketing
- Social Media and Film Production
- Women's Issues
- Environmental
- Film production
- Social sector – Children's Agenda
- Medical Nursing and Public Health
- Climate Change Effect on African Socio-Economy
- Corporate Social Responsibility
- Disaster management
- Physiotherapy

Interns work in teams of international students and volunteer professionals. Please contact us for information on customized and personalized programs. Art in Tanzania's internships, facilities and operations are also accessible for those with disabilities. Contact us for more details at info@artintanzania.org.

Accommodation

In Dar es Salaam you stay at our Student Hostel in Madale village, some 30 km from the city centre. Madale is a peaceful rural village area with fast access to town. It is an eco-compound: we use dry toilets, collect urine and shower water for the irrigation of our large garden, organic compost waste and install eco-friendly solar innovations, among others.

Costs and benefits

Paid interns get 2x the local minimum wage compensation, which means USD 100 per month. Start and end dates are flexible and can accommodate other travel arrangements in Tanzania. International flights, work permits, accommodation and meals are personal costs. We also offer participants with disabilities personal assistants and drivers at additional expenses; USD 30 per week. 24-hour general assistance is available free of charge. Student volunteers need to apply for a Participation VISA. The VISA allows working for a charity organization: we will send you the documents required for the VISA once you have booked your stay with us. The cost of the VISA is USD50, and it allows for a stay of three months.

The start and end dates of the projects are flexible, and we can also accommodate other travel arrangements in Tanzania. International flights, work permits, accommodation, and meals are personal costs. In addition, we offer participants with disabilities personal assistants and drivers at additional expenses; USD 30 per week. 24- hour general assistance is free. For long-term graduate and alums programs, please contact us.

Physically Disabled Youth Assistance

Art in Tanzania offers internship options for physically challenged students looking to work with community development projects in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, East Africa.

Most of our standard programs are accessible to physically disabled students. If needed, personal assistance is available 24 hours a day. In addition, we offer personalized community development projects, accommodation, and everyday activities available for all students.

The Physically Disabled Students Internships in Africa is part of an initiative to develop the educational experiences of physically challenged students in Tanzania and diversity amongst our international participants.

Physically disabled students can participate in most of our programs, including:

- Music
- Tourism
- Education
- Sports
- Marketing
- Social Media
- Women's Issues
- Environmental Issues
- Film production
- Social sector – Children's Agenda
- Medical Nursing and Public Health

We also offer accessibility options for attending authentic African Safari trips and our local tour programs.

NGO MANAGEMENT

Summary

Art in Tanzania is a self-sustainable non-profit charity NGO in Tanzania. We have performed community-based development work and run self-sustainable operations since 1996.

Details

Our community-based programs are focused on empowering the local communities and individual people.

You experience the daily life and culture in Tanzania while also having the opportunity to witness the growth of one of the fastest-growing African economies.

Students will participate in and develop the daily operations of the NGO. We commonly have 15-40 students from different parts of the world, from over 400 universities we co-operate with and represent a variety of professions.

All this must be managed, including each student's weekly plans and reports, making budgets and accounts, developing ongoing community programs, and planning new approaches.

The internship outcome is to learn to use and get experience to implement your education in developing country conditions with limited capacitation and, most importantly, to learn work skills to run an NGO in Africa.

You can also conduct thesis and related tasks along with your internship placement.

The typical daily morning tasks include practical fieldwork in the schools and communities and planning, reporting, and social media visibility functions.

CLIMATE CHANGE ADJUSTMENT

Summary

Art in Tanzania is partnering with a consortium of NGOs and private sector actors to evaluate and produce solutions to the combination of climate change effects on the socio-economy in rural Africa.

Details

Some 75% of Tanzanian people live in rural areas, and climate change will seriously affect their livelihood based on agricultural income.

The most vulnerable groups such as women, youth, and people living with disabilities are most affected.

This program is a multi-professional student approach to evaluating the present situation, considering future scenarios, and developing solution models.

We use our social media pages for advocacy work, and our Facebook pages have more than 50K followers.

Academic level team leaders are daily supervising your internship. In addition, we monitor your work with a weekly plan and report system to secure you proceed well in your study program.

Summary

Art in Tanzania is introducing and implementing environmentally-friendly solutions for Tanzanian communities. These solutions include dry toilets, composting and household water reuse, and solar water purification systems. We also emphasize sustainable tourism operations.

Details

Tanzanian communities lack the economic strength needed to implement environmentally friendly solutions in their households.

Presently less than 50% of households have a toilet. Interns are developing sustainable and affordable solutions, including dry toilets for homes and schools.

This program includes an introduction to solar-based water purification as well. Other green work includes developing compost, finding sustainable sources for providing heat for cooking, developing tree and bamboo nurseries, educating the neighbourhood, and doing advocacy work.

Sustainable Wildlife Safaris and other tourism operations are essential local sources of funding. The

DISASTER MANAGEMENT

Summary

Art in Tanzania works with corporates and governmental institutions to tackle natural and artificial environmental disasters.

Details

Disaster management is poorly known. The public in common is not receiving education about disaster management issues. People and their properties are affected by floods, earthquakes, landslides, diseases like malaria, cholera, hunger, poverty, desert, global warming due to climate change, and industrial incidents from poor health and safety in the workplace.

This program aims to educate and build Tanzanian people about resilience from the early stage to the last set of disaster management, such as mitigation, preparedness, response, and prevention at schools and public spaces, with the help of the various governmental and non-governmental institutions.

Presently we work with entities such as Twiga Cement industries, Coca-cola, the Tanzania government, NBC Bank, PVC, and AG-Energies Company Ltd. We are extending our program to work with the United Nations Organization.

WOMEN EMPOWERMENT

Summary

Art in Tanzania supports and develops village women's initiatives. The main activities are vocational training in English, IT, entrepreneurship, women's rights, and related subjects. We are also developing medical services and health information sessions.

Details

Tanzania has many young mothers in the villages with little or no education and financial support. In addition, areas that are often heavily populated complicate the strive for livelihood and provision for these Mother's children.

Most women lack the opportunity to reach education to fund and develop small businesses. Additionally, many of these women are under-empowered or unaware of their fundamental human rights, thus making young mothers vulnerable to abuse.

Art in Tanzania focuses on delivering skills for women to start their small businesses and create markets for their products. At the same time, we educate women's rights and related subjects to learn their rights in problem situations. We focus on being both innovative and effective.

We are looking to hire multi-professional students and interns to support our work. We tailor the posts according to the participant's focus, interests, and skills.

We look to be innovative. Interns bring their ideas that we look for to strengthen the fieldwork. We encourage innovation and self-led creativity in the professional program approach.

Work with women is underfunded, but Art in Tanzania has multi-professional interns and volunteers. We use teamwork to create opportunities. For example, one can teach how to start horticulture and look for the markets. The base effort is to increase the small business skills through the educational approach and increase awareness.

We also focus on giving Visibility to women's issues through social media for the general Tanzanian population.

AFRICAN FOOTBALL YOUTH ACADEMY DEVELOPMENT

Summary

Art in Tanzania is developing youth football, assisting talent development of a Football Academy jointly with its partners.

Details

Football is the national sport in Tanzania. There is an enormous potential for young talented girls and boys. However, it is hard to produce professional football players due to their low capacities.

This program is a joint effort with our partners as Briessfull Stars Organization of retired top Tanzanian football professionals and 7Elity Academy from Utah USA, having branches in the UK and South Africa and connected to top world football clubs.

We look for interns and volunteers to join and assist in coaching, ball, and physical training activities. Also, advocate for young players about good nutrition, hygiene, and other public health issues.

Participants can also assist in the village and school sports activities.

We use our social media pages for advocacy work, and our Facebook pages have more than 50K followers.

Academic-level team leaders and x Tanzanian football professionals are daily supervising your internship. In addition, we monitor your work with a weekly plan and report system to secure you proceed well in your study program.

Summary

Art in Tanzania and its partners work with the Tanzanian corporate and government institutions to tackle Corporate Social Responsibility issues. These topics also include actions against climate change.

Details

Private citizens' social responsibility is commonly well recognized and introduced in school curriculums and public advocacy programs in the Western world.

Tanzanian public does not know corporate social responsibility. Issues. As a result, corporate policies commonly don't consider social responsibility issues seriously.

At the same time, Tanzania is one country where climate change strongly affects the agriculture-based economy. But, in fairness, many people do not understand the climate change issues either.

This program aims to educate the schools and the public about social responsibility and deliver the message in the schools with the help of the Tanzanian business community.

We currently work with entities such as Dar es Salaam University, TWIGA Cement, Airtel, PVC, NBC Bank, and Coca-Cola, extending the program further. The field operations include working in a tree nursery and partaking in planting operations.

This program has a cross-cutting focus where students of different professions can attend and work together.

SOCIAL MEDIA

Summary

Art in Tanzania's Media Department uses digital media outlets like social media, web pages, and blogs to give Visibility to our programs for marketing purposes and educate the public. We accept remote work as well.

Details

Our community-based programs aim to empower the local communities and individual people.

Interns experience daily life in Tanzania while also witnessing the growth of one of the fastest-growing economies in Africa.

We use social media to empower the program's Visibility to the public and as a marketing tool. Often, we use it to provide information about our work in the communities.

Our Facebook pages have more than 50k followers and a solid visibility base for the Tanzanian public.

We highlight media in network development and constantly wish to develop tools to reach our target groups in universities and the private sector.

Our media tools include arts, music, and film. In addition, we offer an immersive experience for students who desire to use innovative and creative African media tools.

Our media is advocacy, Visibility, and marketing-focused. In addition, we provide in-country orientation, training, and academic tutoring for the program.

Participant reference: <https://youtu.be/wsd846-tkQE> and <https://youtu.be/EnUbSvXT92Q> and <https://youtu.be/lqgXsbGOk0g>

Human Rights Advocacy

Summary

The Human Rights program includes working with Tanzanian human rights professionals focusing on children's, women's, and disabled people's rights and limited sexual rights. In addition, students can include research and thesis focus for the program.

Details

Art in Tanzania Children's Agenda program focuses on Children's and Women's Rights. We also have a Rights team consisting of our team members, private Tanzanian people such as lawyers, other rights-oriented citizens and participating interns and volunteers.

Practical work includes advocacy, partaking in seminars, teaching, and gaining more Visibility. Rights issues are always sensitive matters, and teamwork and networking are essential.

A consortium of Tanzanian NGOs, including UNICEF, Save the Children, and others, developed and ran the Children's Agenda program chaired by the Ministry of Community Work Gender and Children.

We use our social media pages for advocacy work, and our Facebook pages have more than 50K followers.

VILLAG EDUCATION

Summary

Art in Tanzania focuses on helping with educational tasks in the nursery, primary and secondary schools in Tanzania, and adult vocational training. The schools we help are mostly poor village schools. Interns focus on developing primary education and also conduct advocacy work.

Details

Art in Tanzania's Educational program is part of our Children's Agenda approach implemented by a coalition including UNICEF and Save the Children. We work in a village nursery and primary and secondary schools, but we also run adult vocational training where the focal point is the women.

The program also includes classes for children living with disabilities. Participants are specifically needed to cover subjects where the schools are weak.

Areas of development include English, arts and music, mathematics, and sports teaching.

Interns also advocate raising awareness about HIV/AIDS, health, and hygiene. Debate-based English training is a trendy subject. We use our social media pages for advocacy work, and our Facebook pages have more than 50K followers. We also highlight teacher-training activities.

Classroom tools are scarce, and the number of pupils in a school can be more than 40.

MARKETING AND MANAGEMENT

Summary

Art in Tanzania is a self-sustainable non-profit charity NGO. We earn our funds from safari tour operations and sales of environmentally friendly products.

Details

Our community-based programs empower the local communities and individual people.

Interns experience daily life in Tanzania while also witnessing the growth of one of the fastest-growing economies in Africa.

Our business and marketing programs are focused on training community entrepreneurship skills.

We also focus on marketing volunteering placements, internships, safaris, tours, and music.

Our new sales products are solar-powered gadgets, composting dry toilets, and water purification systems.

Our management tasks include NGO management assistance and development, staff training for new skills, and raising awareness about issues such as sustainability.

We are developing online and mobile platforms to reach children in rural Tanzania.

We use our social media pages for advocacy work, and our Facebook pages have more than 50K followers.

PHARMACY

Summary

Art in Tanzania helps small and more significant pharmacies in some 72,000 people. Intern will learn how the pharmacies operate in Africa.

Details

Tanzanian pharmacies are far from western standards. Specifically, small village pharmacies need training and advocacy to develop their quality.

Intern pharmacists work under the direct supervision and control of a pharmacist.

MEDICAL NURSING PUBLIC HEALTH

Summary

Art in Tanzania helps small community clinics in the villages and larger hospitals. Tanzania's healthcare is missing professional medical staff. You can assist in developing healthcare, but you also get great experience working in a developing country with limited medical facilities.

Details

Art in Tanzania community medical support team works in Dar es Salaam. In the Madele village medical support program, we can combine small village clinics with the larger hospital.

The public health program focuses on helping and educating the village communities about nutrition, sports and exercise, art therapy, sustainability, and other fields.

Tanzanian pharmacies are far from western standards. Specifically, small village pharmacies need training and advocacy to develop their prototypes.

The medical program also includes HIV/AIDS counselling advocacy, testing, and events for raising awareness.

SUSTAINABLE TOURISM

Summary

Art in Tanzania runs safari and tour operations in Tanzania as part of NGO fundraising. Interns help develop the tour programs, guiding and marketing our tours and safaris.

Details

Art in Tanzania looks to set itself apart from the crowd regarding safari and tour business by offering sustainable travel options. Commonly safaris are sold by tour agents located in the western world. They sell the safaris, but only part of the money comes to Tanzania to support the economy.

Typically, villages around famous national parks are the poorest of the poor. The profit we get from our tours comes to Tanzania and is used to support the Tanzanian economy and community development activities.

CHILDREN UNDER SCHOOL AGE DEVELOPMENT

Summary

Art in Tanzania has partnered with UNICEF, Save the Children, and other NGOs as a part of The Children's Agenda Initiative in Tanzania. This program focuses on Tanzania's Early Childhood and Children's Rights issues.

Details

40 Tanzanian NGOs, including UNICEF and Save the Children, created The Children's Agenda program. The primary focus is on children's rights to education, medication, sanitation, and other necessities.

We also work closely with children's families to meet their needs. Art in Tanzania tailors its efforts as the media team leader to give Visibility to the program and its results.

The program has ten key investment points: Invest to Save the Lives of Children and Women, Invest in Good Nutrition, Invest in Better Hygiene and Sanitation in Schools and Health Facilities, Invest in Early Childhood Development, Invest in Quality Education for all Children, Invest to Make Schools Safe, Invest to Protect Infants and Adolescent Girls from HIV, Invest to Reduce Teenage Pregnancy, Invest to Protect Children from Violence, Abuse, and Exploitation and Invest in Children with Disabilities.

We use our Facebook pages' strong Visibility (more than 50k followers) to advocate for the public in common.

FILM PRODUCTION

Summary

Get hands-on experience through international film production, television, and documentary filmmaking opportunities! Art in Tanzania accepts applications for ongoing work in local television and movie productions and international documentaries and music videos.

Details

Our interns work on new film productions daily. We need skilled interns and product managers to work and train with our Tanzanian team. The work includes:

- Scriptwriting

- Directing

- Cinematography

We are looking for:

- Production Assistance

- Lighting personnel

- Sound personnel

- Editing personnel

- Social media professionals

- Makeup personnel and other essential film staff

We use our social media pages for advocacy work, and our Facebook pages have more than 50K followers

The Tanzanian movie sector is a fast-growing industry. However, the industry is competing with initiatives like Nollywood in Nigeria.

Interns will work on a production team with individuals with different backgrounds and skill levels.

Please get in touch with us for information on customized and personalized programs.

GERONTOLOGY

Summary

Art in Tanzania supports and develops services for the growing older adults in the African village.

Details

Older people in Tanzania are culturally highly appreciated, and they will stay with their families rather than live alone. However, better medical care, nutrition and living conditions have resulted in people living longer. Nevertheless, Tanzania lacks social services for the elderly population, and there is an urgent need to provide essential supportive services, especially for low-income families.

The gerontology intern will perform tasks as follows

- Advocating public health topics such as common elder society illnesses, nutrition etc
- Assisting in conducting health checks when needed
- Physiotherapy type of training and exercises
- Assisting in organizing the typical daily tasks
- Creating daily hobbies and other mentally empowering activities

- Other tasks that the student is capable of bringing into the placement task

ARCHITECTURE

Summary

Art in Tanzania is expanding the green solutions program, and we need to design the products and plan interior designs. Tasks also include the use of traditional environmentally friendly construction materials and techniques.

Details

Art in Tanzania is expanding its sustainable operations, and the tasks include:

- Sustainable construction uses eco-friendly materials like mud, stones, and wood.
 - We are focusing on Traditional Tribal African construction methods.
 - We are designing treehouses.
 - Use of Recycled Materials.
- Landscaping in gardens and gardening.
 - To implement Solar and LED light products and interior designs.
 - We are developing and designing composting dry toilets, composters, greywater systems, and similar eco-solutions.

WATER AND SANITATION - SWASH

Summary

Art in Tanzania is introducing and implementing environmentally-friendly solutions for the Tanzanian communities. These solutions include dry toilets, composting and solar-based water purification systems.

Details

Tanzanian communities lack the economic strength needed to implement environmentally friendly solutions in their households.

Presently less than 50% of households have a toilet. So basically, all the schools lack proper sanitation and clean drinking water.

Interns are developing sustainable and affordable solutions, including dry toilets and solar-based water purification systems for households and schools.

Other tasks in the field of sustainability include developing compost, manure production from organic waste, neighbourhood education and advocacy.

WEB PAGE DEVELOPMENT AND DESIGNING

Summary

Art in Tanzania is a Tanzanian NGO operating for multiple community work programs. Therefore, we must develop media content, specifically our web and social media pages.

Details

We constantly need people to develop our web pages

<https://www.artintanzania.org> and the pages of our sister entity, Green Works Africa <https://www.greenworkstz.com> and Help And Travel <http://www.helpandtravel.org/>

We have more than 50,000 followers on Facebook, making it a practical base to reach people in Tanzania. Therefore, enhancing our social media platforms and creating content go hand with web page development

PHOTOGRAPHING

Summary

Art in Tanzania uses photography in daily operations to give Visibility to community programs.

Photographing Tanzania also includes encounters with wildlife and exposures that promote social development, human rights, and specific advocacy content creation.

Details

Art in Tanzania's coalition, partnering with UNICEF, Save the Children, and other organizations in the Children's Agenda in Tanzania, created numerous social media focuses that we actively give Visibility to the programs. Our Facebook pages have some 38,000 followers.

Participating in Art in Tanzania's photography program is a real-time artistic adventure. In addition, your photographing skills can make a real social difference.

AFRICAN MUSIC AND DANCE

Summary

Art in Tanzania is developing young musicians and dancers in Tanzania. We focus on traditional African music with hectic drum rhythms and dancing. In addition, we are looking for western artists to join the program for cultural exchange. We are also developing school music teaching.

Details

The work includes working in our Mzuka Records music program, joining band rehearsals, developing the shows, and teaching music.

Tanzanian schools lack music instruction due to a lack of resources and funding. Art in Tanzania trains the artists to become music teachers and introduces music teaching as an extra curriculum in schools.

During 2017-2018, we produced music and dance around the theme of Fight Against Corruption, supported by the Swiss Embassy in Dar es Salaam. This program included music, dance choreography, recording, and filming.

PHYSIOTHERAPY

Summary

Art in Tanzania supports village dispensaries and larger hospitals to conduct physical therapy care for the community. In addition, we offer sports physiotherapy work at the largest Tanzanian football clubs and Youth Academy.

Details

Art in Tanzania community physical therapy program empowers the physiotherapy services for the local communities. At the village level, the local dispensaries allocate the ongoing needs of their patients. Clinical-based physiotherapy is then taking place in larger hospitals.

We assist the physical therapy practices in the Tanzanian Youth Football Academy and the leading football clubs in the Dar es Salaam Region.

SUSTAINABLE CONSTRUCTION

Summary

Art in Tanzania (NGO) is looking for students to help us develop our Eco-campus in Madale village. We focus on growing as an eco-building role model in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania. We are testing traditional African construction materials and methods.

Details

We use locally sourced bamboo to build basic dry toilets and simple greywater collection systems for irrigation. In addition, we look to learn from traditional African construction, using locally sourced materials such as mud, trees, hay, stones, and other resources and techniques commonly used in the villages and tribes.

Modern techniques include solar and led lights, but we also use innovation and creativity to develop interior design combining modern technology, traditional style, and eco-materials.

In addition, we encourage local builders, youth, and international volunteers and interns to learn different techniques oriented towards a more ecological style of living.

We wish to implement tree houses and similar new designs and creative construction solutions.

Eco-products used in interior design, such as led lampshades made of natural materials, can also help to provide women with more employment opportunities.
